

ENG-W 171: Digital Literacy & Composition (Spring 2026)

Audacious Women

Mon, Wed, Fri: 1:55 PM–2:45 PM
Ballantine Hall (BH) 015

Instructor: Shataparni Bhattacharya

Office Hours: Mon, Wed: 3:00–4:00 PM

Office Hours Location: Ballantine Hall (BH) 436

Email: shabhat@iu.edu

Course Description

ENG-W 171 Projects in Digital Literacy + Composition (3 cr.) teaches critical reading, thinking, and writing through digital ways of knowing, doing, and making. The course engages digital authoring and attribution, digital collaboration, and digital problem solving in a hands-on workshop format that leverages active-learning and multimedia technologies. It also examines contemporary digital phenomena in conversation with experts and public audiences.

Audacious Women

Scandalous women have a special place in our cultural consciousness. We gossip about them, create biopics about them, and open our wallets to purchase their music, movies, perfumes, and fashion brands. The modern-day audacious woman emerged in England, 1660, as the first actress. Known for beauty and apparent immorality, she became an object of admiration, contempt, and salacious gossip. But how do the digital echoes of her life shape the stories we tell about gender and femininity today? To learn about digital embodiment, we will explore archives and museums on campus, watch films, and engage with internet “content creation.” As a composition and digital literacy course, we will borrow the rhetorical power of the audacious woman for our own purposes, creating digital deliverables, such as websites, blogs, videos, and podcasts. If the audacious woman is so memorable, there must be communication (and composition) lessons for us all in her example.

Course Goals and Learning Outcomes

W-171 satisfies the IUB GenEd English Composition and COLL (CASE) English Composition credits. This course replaces Eng-W 131 but shares its outcomes. Students proficient in English composition and digital literacy will demonstrate the ability to:

1. employ strategies of pre-writing, drafting, and revising, taking into consideration the rhetorical purpose, the knowledge and needs of different audiences, and the feedback of instructors and peers
2. produce substantial revisions of drafts, as distinguished from editing and proofreading, read critically, summarize, apply, analyze, and synthesize information and concepts in written and visual sources as the basis for developing your own ideas and claims

3. conduct inquiry-driven research, using appropriate data repositories and properly attributing and citing the language and ideas of others to avoid plagiarism
4. develop a focused thesis and link it to appropriate reasons and adequate evidence
5. use genre conventions and structure (e.g., introductions, paragraphing, transitions) in ways that serve the development and communication of information and ideas, and edit such that choices in style, grammar, and voice contribute rhetorically to effectively communicating information and ideas
6. analyze, critique, and create digital compositions for modern audiences
7. compose digital projects using Adobe Creative Cloud (including Express and Creative Cloud) that demonstrate digital problem-solving abilities and digital literacy
8. engage writing as a social practice within a community of fellow writers and foster a collaborative learning environment.

Required Texts

Course Texts

Primary Texts (Required)

- Katherine Philips, "To My Excellent Lucasia, on Our Friendship" (1651-1652)
- Anne Bradstreet, "The Author to Her Book" (1678)
- Aphra Behn, prefatory materials to The Feigned Curtizans (1679)
- Delarivier Manley, prefatory materials to The Royal Mischief (1696)
- Anne Finch, "The Introduction" (1713?)
- Robert Gould, "The Playhouse. A Satyr" (1689)
- Anon., prefatory materials to The Female Wits (1704)

Secondary Texts (Required)

- Gilli Bush-Bailey, Introduction to Treading the Bawds (Manchester UP, 2006), pp. 1-23.
- Stephen Orgel, "Nobody's Perfect: Or Why Did the English Stage Take Boys for Women?" (1989), pp. 7-29.
- Joseph Roach, "Public Intimacy: The Prior History of 'It'" (2005), pp. 15-30.
- Saidiya Hartman, "A Note on Method" in Wayward Lives, Beautiful Experiments (W.W. Norton & Co., 2019), pp. xiii-xv.

Course Film (Required)

- Stage Beauty (2004)

Artwork (Required)

- Playbill for Lincoln's Inn Fields Theatre's performance of Troilus and Cressida
- A Just View of the British Stage, by William Hogarth. Engraving, 1724.
- Unknown woman, formerly known as Nell Gwyn, by the studio of Sir Peter Lely. Oil on canvas, circa 1675.

Eskenazi Art Museum:

- Judith with the Head of Holofernes (c. 1491-95, Italian), attributed to Matteo di Giovanni
- Judith with the Head of Holofernes (c. 1620–1625, Italian), by Antiveduto Grammatica
- Portrait of Mrs. Chinnery (1803, French), by Élisabeth Louise Vigée Le Brun
- Tungila (Angel) (2019, American), by Sedrick Huckaby

Multimodal Texts (Reference)

- "Britain's First Actresses" by The Retrospectors (Dec 07, 2025)
- "The Outrageous Mistress of Charles II's Court | Nell Gwyn | Pretty, Witty Nell" by History's Forgotten People (Dec 03, 2023)
- Paula Maust, "Notorious Strumpets on the English Restoration Stage" on Early Music America
- Repositories/databases to source images for Major 1 poster:
 1. https://www.vam.ac.uk/articles/theatre-posters-an-illustrated-history?srsId=AfmBOoqts_Igj7ysOJK1thmbEQjmbWQivydrb_PV37DXPaD3-aYiMS8
 2. <https://www.pinterest.com/katieekane22/restoration-theaters/>
 3. <https://www.rsc.org.uk/restoration-plays>
 4. <https://archive.knoxnews.com/entertainment/life/ut-performance-of-phaedra-tells-ancient-tale-in-modern-setting-ep-405545017-357975291.html>
 5. <https://blplaybills.org/>
- "Judith Butler's Theory of Gender Performativity, Explained" by Film & Media Studies (Dec 19, 2020)
- "Judith Butler's Gender Performativity, Part 2" by Film & Media Studies (Nov 01, 2021)
- Justin Chang, review of "Frankenstein" in the New Yorker (October 2025)
- Richard Brody, review of "Anora" in the New Yorker (October 2024)
- "Dracula's Paprika Hendl from Bram Stoker's 1897 Novel" by Tasting History with Max Miller (October 21, 2025)
- "How to be a Guerrilla Girl" - exhibition by the Getty Museum
- "Inside the Guerrilla Girls' Collective Practice" by Christina Campodonico (Oct 22, 2025)

Craft TextsTextbook

- Rosenwasser, David and Jill Stephen. Writing Analytically, 9th Cengage, 2024 (IUeText)

Reading and Annotating

- Reading Comprehension Tips
- Annotating Texts

Summary

- Wilhoit, "Summary"
- Losh et al., "The Paragraph as a Sandwich"
- "The Six Parts of Argumentative Writing"
- "Says v. Does"
- "How to Write a Summary"
- "Sample Summary Diagram"

Citations

- MLA style citations

Analysis

- Working with Criticism
- Close Reading Literature
- Tools for textual analysis

Grammar

- Common comma-splice and run-on sentence mistake
- Using passive voice in sentences

Film Review

- Tools for Analyzing Visual Media
- Writing about film

Visual Rhetoric and Translation Analysis

- Visual Rhetoric
- Translation Analysis
- Thesis Statements for Major 1

Tech & Software Requirements

The following materials are required for your full participation in class activities:

- Adobe Creative Cloud: As an IU student, you have access to Adobe Creative Cloud. We will be using Adobe Express, Adobe Premiere, Adobe InDesign, and Adobe Portfolio this semester, though you are also welcome to experiment with Photoshop, Illustrator, Audition, etc. which are all included in ACC.
- Notebook, computer, laptop, or tablet for writing and taking notes; no phones for notetaking, please
- Reliable Internet connection
- Microsoft 365, available through iu.edu
- Access to Canvas through a supported web browser.

While these applications exist in the cloud via IUanyWare, internet access on campus is occasionally spotty. Whenever possible, install directly to your hard drive. To prevent tech disaster, save your work to your computer and to the cloud (you can sync a folder on your desktop with OneDrive to make this process automatic). All of this wonderful software will be available to you throughout your time at IU. Once you graduate, you will need to pay for private accounts or navigate to other software, such as GIMP as a Photoshop alternative, Audacity instead of Audition or Filmora instead of Premiere.

Consider learning to use freeware alternatives now, alongside the Adobe Suite. Whenever possible, our course will teach you to use industry-standard programs, but digital literacy is all about adaptation to new tools. If you can accomplish the same objective in multiple programs, you're on your way!

Assignments & Grade Breakdown

Please note: All written work turned in for this class must meet the general MLA formatting standards of academic writing.

Daily Engagement – [15%]

- Class activities such as discussions, brainstorming, free-writes, collected notes from group activities, short presentations, etc.
- You will be evaluated on both presence and participation at our in-person class meetings.
- Missed engagement activities cannot be turned in late.

Preparatory Work – [20%]

- Discussion posts, reading annotations, abstracts, bibliographies, personal narratives, drafts, proposals, thesis workshops, peer reviews etc.
- These are scaffolded writing exercises to help us prepare for formal deliverables. You will use these as "checkpoints" as you work on Major Assignments.
- Failure to complete preparatory work such as drafts or peer reviews will result in a deduction of at least 10% of the total grade on the corresponding Major Assignment.

Minor Assignments – [25%]

- Formal writing assignments which incorporate some digital mediation.
- The written and intellectual work done in Minor Assignments are intended to form the foundation of the work you will do for your Major Assignments.

Major Assignments – [30%]

- Formal research assignments which account for primarily digital rhetorical choices.
- Submission of formal deliverables must be preceded by submission of a draft, plan, or proposal, as well as a peer review: these are part of the "Preparatory Work" assignment group and cannot be turned in late. Failure to submit will result in a 10% deduction from the final score of the corresponding major assignment.

Final Portfolio – [10%]

- The final portfolio is an opportunity for you to make a case for the final grade you believe you should earn in this course. You will argue for your grade using (a) your work throughout the semester, (b) the extent to which you feel you have achieved the course learning objectives, as evidence to support the argument for your grade claim, (c) the dialogue between one Minor and one Major Assignment, and (d) a reflection on what analytical and (digital-)rhetorical moves you see emerging through this dialogue.

Extra Credit

- Attend an event (a play, a concert, a poetry reading, a lecture, a film screening etc.) or exhibition, and write a 2-page, double-spaced (normal margins) reflection on it in relation to our course for each event attended. I will suggest some event options but you are welcome to propose your own. Each extra credit submission is worth an increase of a third of a letter (e.g., from B to B+, or from C+ to B-) in the lowest grade earned on an assignment in this course. You may not use extra credits to make up for assignments that have been missed altogether. You can do up to four extra-credit assignments, spaced out over the semester, until April 30.

Assessment Due Dates

1. Minor 1: Summary - Friday, Feb 06
2. Major 1: Poster + Essay
 - a. Checkpoint A: Poster Draft - Wednesday, Feb 11
 - b. Checkpoint B: Essay Draft - Friday, Feb 13
 - c. Checkpoint C: Peer Review - Wednesday, Feb 18
 - d. Final submission - Friday, Feb 20
3. Minor 2: Close Reading Webpage - Sunday, March 01
4. Major 2: Podcast
 - a. Checkpoint: Written Draft/"Script" - Friday, March 06
 - b. Final submission - Friday, March 13
5. Minor 3: Film Review Magazine - Monday, April 06
6. Major 3: Research Video
 - a. Checkpoint A: Research Plan - Friday, April 10
 - b. Checkpoint B: Peer Review - Wednesday, April 15
 - c. Final submission - Friday, April 17
7. Minor 4: Artifacts Exhibition Pitch - Saturday, April 25
8. Final Portfolio - Friday, May 01

Office Hours

Students may bring their questions to BH 436 on Mondays and Wednesdays 3:00-4:00 PM. These are the dedicated times when I am available to talk with you about any aspect of the course, especially your written work. And, I am always happy to talk with you. It's your responsibility, though, to guide the discussion (i.e., make sure you're ready to ask specific questions about any work you've brought along). I'll ask, too, that you keep from using office hours to cover class content you've missed due to an absence; in such cases, please reach out to your classmates to borrow their notes. To ensure that all students get an opportunity to meet with me if required, I will limit each appointment to 15 minutes per student. If you are unavailable during my regular office hours, email me to schedule an appointment for another time.

Attending office hours does not mean that you will necessarily do better on your assignments; it does ensure, however, that we will have a chance to enact some of the feedback, questioning, and conversation that all good writing requires before it can be great.

Finally, please address me, during class as well as through e-mail, as SB. Please note that e-mail is the best way to get in touch with me outside of class, but I generally do not check e-mail after 5:00 PM or on weekends, and you must allow me at least 48 hours to respond to any e-mail.

Important Resources

1. Writing Tutorial Services: WTS offers one-on-one tutorship to students who need assistance with writing and drafting essay assignments. I encourage you to visit a tutor at Writing

Tutorial Services for feedback on your work at any stage of the writing process. Their incredibly valuable services are free to all IU students. WTS is not a proofreading service. Rather, tutors do something much more valuable: they assist you in developing your ideas and skills in written communication. You can call WTS at 812-855-6738 for hour-long appointments in the Wells Library, and you can check their website for hours at other WTS centers.

2. Library Research Assistance: IU Libraries offers one-on-one consultations with students who need assistance with library research.
3. UITS: 24/7 IU tech support.

Attendance

Because in-person attendance is so essential to your learning in this class, it is an important factor in the grade you earn. As an instructor of record, I am required to maintain accurate daily attendance records using the Canvas “Attendance” tool. I conduct rollcall at the beginning of every class.

In W-171, we allow three absences before penalties are applied to a student’s final grade. This means that you can miss three classes this semester, no questions asked (but it’s always smart to save them in case you become sick, etc.). We reduce the final grade by 1/3 of a letter grade for each day of absence after the third day, up to one full letter grade.

Thus, if at the end of the term your grade is an A, and you miss

- four classes, your final grade becomes an A-
- five classes, your final grade in the class becomes a B+
- six or more classes, your final grade will be reduced by a full letter grade.

After missing 9 or more classes (or 20% of class meetings), we recommend you withdraw from the course and complete it in a semester when you can devote adequate time and attention to the writing process. This is in line with the absence policy as outlined by the IU Division of Student Affairs: if illness (whether of physical or mental health) requires you to miss more than 20% of the semester, you will need to meet with your academic advisor to consider withdrawing from this course (and perhaps all courses) until you are able to return in a future semester and focus on your academic goals. The last day to drop with an automatic W this semester is Sunday, 3/15. No matter how legitimate your situation may be, you will not be able to make up more than 20% of this semester’s work. In other words, even legitimate illness carries a limit regarding how much work can reasonably be made up before the learning experience is undermined and before learning outcomes cannot be reasonably met or assessed.

There are, however, three possible exceptions to this policy:

1. Attendance Memos: An attendance memo is a notice sent by the Dean of Students Office to a student’s instructors, alerting them to an absence due to an emergency. The Dean of Students requires documentation to verify your absence and will not share the reason for the absence with your instructors. The Dean of Students issues Attendance Memos ONLY in cases of student hospitalization and death of a parent/guardian or sibling (immediate family). This is clearly described in the common syllabus and the IU website. The Dean of Student WILL NOT issue Attendance Memos for everyday attendance issues. Instructors may not advise their students to ask the Dean of Students to excuse any absence or write attendance memos for everyday illness. An attendance memo does not excuse a student's absence or coursework. It is up to each instructor to decide whether to excuse an absence and, if so, what alternative arrangements will be required. For a list of permissible absences, consult this page on attendance.

2. Religious Observances: If you will miss class for a religious observance, you must fill out the Request for Accommodation for Religious Observances form at least two weeks before your anticipated absence. Students missing class for a religious observance can find the officially approved accommodation form by going to the Vice Provost for Faculty and Academic Affairs webpage for religious accommodations: (Religious Observances: Teaching Resources: Faculty Resources: Office of the Vice Provost for Faculty & Academic Affairs: Indiana University Bloomington). The form must be submitted at least 2 weeks prior to the anticipated absence.
3. University Approved Activities: Students may be absent due to “university-sanctioned curricular and extracurricular activities” without penalty. University-sanctioned curricular and extracurricular activities are considered to be travel to and performance in concerts, artistic presentation, athletics events, academic competitions, and participation in workshops and conferences. Please ensure you provide me with the exact dates and details of the event, as well as proof of participation.

Otherwise, there is no distinction between excused and unexcused absences.

Class activities, peer reviews etc. that you might miss due to absence cannot be made up or turned in late. This means you forfeit the points for assignments that are missed due to absences from class.

Tardiness: Three tardies are equivalent to one absence. You will be marked tardy if you arrive after roll call. If you anticipate being late to this class regularly because you are arriving from an earlier class that meets in a different part of campus, or anticipate having to regularly leave this class early so as to get to your next class on time, please consider withdrawing and taking W-171 in a different semester when your schedule allows you to be a fully present participant of this class.

eDrop/Withdrawal: To drop a class at Indiana University Bloomington, students can use the eDrop/eAdd system within the first week of classes to drop without penalty. After the first week, but before the automatic deadline (Sunday, 3/15), students can still drop a class using eDrop/eAdd, but a “W” (Withdrawn) will appear on their transcript. After the automatic withdrawal deadline, students need instructor approval to drop a class and may need to petition for late withdrawal. It's always a good idea to consult with an academic advisor before dropping a class, especially if it's after the first week. As your instructor, I am required to report any student who stops attending a class and does not withdraw (with a grade of ‘W’ or ‘F’). Failure of a course due to non-attendance may affect financial aid award amounts.

Late-work Policy

Most minor and major assignments turned in late will have a penalty of 10% per day it is left incomplete, up to 7 calendar days. After 7 calendar days, no further late submissions will be accepted, and you will receive a zero on the assignment. There are several assignments that cannot be turned in late or made up. For example, a peer review that has been turned in late is of no use to your peer review partner. As a result, peer reviews that are turned in late will receive no credit. Additionally, class activities that you are absent for cannot be made up. Drafts that are turned in late may not receive feedback from me. Lastly, the final project MUST be turned in on time.

If you require an extension, please ask at least 24 hours in advance of the deadline.

Please note: Failing to complete drafts and peer reviews will not only hurt your grade on major assignments (a 10% deduction from the final major assignment submission) but also weakens the efficacy of your writing process. Missing drafts means you cannot equitably participate in peer review, which not only affects your grade on those submissions but also your overall grade on major assignments. Please get in touch with me right away (and in advance of deadlines) if you anticipate missing a draft or peer review.

Phones, Headphones, and Tech Usage in the Classroom

Students are required to put their phones away into their bags or backpacks (not in their pockets) for the duration of the class. If an instructor determines that a student's use of a smartphone is negatively affecting their in-class work, the instructor may issue a warning. After two warnings, the student's academic advisor will be notified.

Students are also required to remove headphones, earbuds, etc. for the duration of the class. This ensures that we all actively participate in class discussions and extend the respect and courtesy to our peers while they are speaking that we would expect in return.

You may use your laptops in the classroom to access readings and texts (but I encourage you to bring printed copies if you're able to!), but please be a responsible class participant, which means only using your device during appropriate times for assigned tasks. Any off-task use could result in you being asked to leave class and counted absent for the day. So, be a good citizen of our learning community and use your device only in the ways assigned.

Academic Integrity and IU Plagiarism Policy

The Indiana University Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct describes the types of misconduct for which students may be penalized, including cheating, fabrication, plagiarism, and interference with other students' work, as well as actions that endanger the University and the University community.

According to the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct, plagiarism is "presenting someone else's work, including the work of other students, as the submitting student's own. A student must not present ideas or materials taken from another source for either written or oral use without fully acknowledging the source, unless the information is common knowledge." The Code also indicates the procedures to be followed in these cases. All students are required to know and adhere to the responsibilities outlined in the IU Code on Academic Misconduct. In other words, it is your responsibility to know this code. Academic dishonesty can result in a grade of F for the class (an F for academic dishonesty cannot be removed from the transcript). Significant violations of the Code can result in expulsion from the University.

Plagiarism is using another person's words, ideas, artistic creations, or other intellectual property without giving proper credit. According to the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct, a student must give credit to the work of another person when they:

- Quote another person's actual words, either oral or written;
- Paraphrase another person's words, either oral or written;
- Use another person's idea, opinion, or theory; or
- Borrow facts, statistics, or other illustrative material, unless the information is common knowledge.

Refer to the plagiarism guide by Writing Tutorial Services for more information.

Per IU Policy: Academic integrity is a matter that is taken very seriously at Indiana University. The University expects students to uphold and follow the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct (Code). Cheating, plagiarism, or other violations of the Code may result in a lower or failing grade on the assignment on which academic misconduct occurred or a lower or failing grade in the course. Faculty are required to investigate and then report all incidents of academic misconduct to the Dean of Students. All cases of academic misconduct will be reported to the Dean of Students.

Generative AI Policy

According to the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct, cheating is “using, providing, or attempting to use or provide unauthorized assistance, materials, information, or study aids in any form.” (II: Responsibilities B.4, a and c). Your use of anyone else's (or any AI system's) words, graphic images, or ideas should be properly cited. You must not use Generative AI platforms such as ChatGPT, Copilot, Gemini, Dall-E, Grammarly, QuillBot, SpinBot, etc. for any work for this class without the explicit permission of the instructor and appropriate citation. AI text generators should not be used for:

- Creating or revising drafts
- Editing your work
- Reviewing a peer's work

The unauthorized use of generative AI platforms will be considered plagiarism and/or cheating and will be reported to the Dean of Students (Office of Student Conduct) and handled according to university policies. Sanctions for academic misconduct in this course may include a failing grade on the assignment, a reduction in your final course grade, or a failing grade in the course, among other possibilities. Contact your instructor if you have questions.

Grading Scale

Grade: A

Superlative work. Addresses the requirements of the assignment in a compelling and insightful way. Manifests consistent attention to detail in both the ideas being presented and the writing that conveys them. Almost entirely error-free. Leaves the reader thinking well after the last word goes by.

- 97-100 % - A+
- 93-96 % - A

- 90-92 % - A-

Grade: B

Excellent work. Clearly and engagingly addresses the requirements, issues, and major ideas of the assignment. Writing is not only readable but also rewarding, attuned to the needs and interests of the reader. Punctuation, spelling, source citation, and other mechanical matters are largely error-free.

- 87-89 % - B+
- 83-86 % - B
- 80-82 % - B-

Grade C

Adequate work. Meets the basic requirements of the assignment. Clearly addresses the main issues and ideas the assignment articulates. Writing is legible and coherent overall. Any lapses in correctness and style tend not to affect the reader's comprehension.

- 77-79 % - C+
- 73-76 % - C
- 70-72 % - C-

Grade D

Barely meets the most basic requirements of the assignment. Addresses the important issues or ideas that the assignment engages, but largely without insight. Frequent lapses in style, correctness, and mechanics impact coherence and indicate a lack of careful proofreading.

- 67-69 % - D+
- 63-66 % - D
- 60-62 % - D-

Grade F

Fails to meet the most basic requirements of the assignments. Fails to address important issues or ideas that are central to the assignment. Fails to demonstrate attention to style, correctness, and mechanics.

- Below 62 %

Please note: You must earn a C (73%) or higher to successfully complete this course (see IUB General Education requirements for details).

Canvas and IU Email

Frequently check Canvas, especially for announcements and assignments (also make sure you receive notifications to your IU email from Canvas). All your course notes and your tasks are available only through Canvas. Therefore, if you do not check frequently, you may miss significant content and points. Please ensure that you use your IU email account only for university-related matters. Make sure you have easy and frequent access to your IU email. Your IU email account will be the only account that I can and will contact you through.

You are expected to check our Modules and the schedule posted on our homepage frequently. Do not rely on Canvas's To-Do list alone to stay abreast of required readings and videos. Ignoring the Modules will lead to a shallow, transactional experience in W171, and our Modules will provide vital context and clarity for our assignments. Each week will each have its own “Overview” page on Canvas, updated at the start of class. Follow along with content there to avoid missing reading assignments and daily work.

Intellectual Inquiry and Debate

In keeping with the University’s adoption of the Chicago Principles, this class will seek to cultivate an environment of free intellectual inquiry, debate, and constructive criticism. As your instructor, I will guide discussions to advance the course's educational objectives, and students are encouraged to listen to one another and engage thoughtfully with differing viewpoints, even when unpopular or controversial views are expressed. The mere expression of views, words, symbols, images, or thoughts that some people find offensive does not violate free-speech norms if such expression arises for legitimate academic and/or pedagogical purposes. The class will also seek to cultivate an environment in which people can change their minds, and in which students who are uncertain or need time to formulate their thoughts can claim the space to do so.

Course Accessibility

Indiana University is dedicated to ensuring that students with disabilities (e.g., chronic health, neurodevelopmental, neurological, sensory, psychological, and emotional, including mental health, etc.) have the support services and reasonable accessibility measures (accommodations) needed to provide equal access to academic programs. Establish your eligibility for support services through Accessible Educational Services \(AES\). Note that services are confidential, may take time to put into place, and are not retroactive; citations and alternate media for print materials may take three or more weeks to produce. Contact Accessible Educational Services as soon as possible to register for services. The office is located on the basement floor of Eigenmann Hall in Room 001 and is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Pregnancy

IU is dedicated to supporting students who are pregnant or have experienced other conditions related to pregnancy (termination of pregnancy, miscarriage, lactation, or related medical conditions). To register for accommodations due to pregnancy or a related medical condition, please contact Accessible Educational Services.

FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act \(FERPA\) is a federal law that protects the privacy of your education records. You may authorize a third party to access your education record by adding a release at <https://ferpareleases.indiana.edu>. Adding a release for a specific individual will generate a PIN that is sent to your IU email and will direct you to share the PIN with the authorized third party.

Bias Incident Reporting

Bias-based incident reports can be made by students, faculty, and staff. Any act of discrimination or harassment based on race, ethnicity, religious affiliation, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, or disability can be reported through any of the options: 1) fill out an online report at <https://reportincident.iu.edu/> (reports can be made anonymously) or 2) call the Dean of Students Office at (812) 855-8187. Bias incidents involving faculty and staff should be reported to the Office of Civil Rights Compliance.

Sexual Misconduct and Title IX

IU policy prohibits sexual misconduct in any form, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, stalking, sexual exploitation, and dating and domestic violence. If you have experienced sexual misconduct, or know someone who has, the University can help. If you are seeking help and would like to speak to someone confidentially, you can make an appointment with the IU Sexual Assault Crisis Services at (812) 855-8900 or contact a Confidential Victim Advocate at (812) 856-2469 or cva@iu.edu.

It is also important that you know that University policy requires that I share certain information brought to my attention about potential sexual misconduct with the campus Deputy Sexual Misconduct & Title IX Coordinator or the University Sexual Misconduct & Title IX Coordinator. In that event, those individuals will work to ensure that appropriate measures are taken, and resources are made available. Protecting student privacy is of the utmost concern, and information will only be shared with those that need to know to ensure the University can respond and assist. I encourage you to visit <http://stopsexualviolence.iu.edu/index.html> to learn more.

Student Resources

Academic Coaching

- IU Peer Coaches
- Student Academic Center
- Tutoring: There are many free and paid tutoring resources on campus that are available to students.

Connection and Belonging

- Check out beINvolved to connect with registered student organizations and to discover hundreds of campus events

Health and Wellbeing

- Counseling and Psychological Services
IU Student Health Center, Fourth Floor
Office Hours: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
Phone: 812-855-5711 (choose option 1 after-hours for crisis line)
- RecSports: Aquatics, Club Sports, Group Exercise, Intramural Sports
- Student Care and Resource Center supports students experiencing challenges that impact their ability to be safe, healthy, and successful. You can walk in, call, email, submit a Care Referral or make an appointment through the Student Appointment Scheduler to connect with the Care Team.

306 N. Union Street

Office Hours: Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. – noon and 1 - 5 p.m.

Phone: 812-856-CARE (2273) // Email: iucare@iu.edu

- TimelyCare: Free 24/7 on-demand mental health support. You do not need insurance to access TimelyCare services.

Advocacy

- Student Advocates: Retired IU faculty and staff members assist students with resolving academic, financial, and conduct-related issues.

Technology Resources

- Free on-campus wireless internet (Wi-Fi) access through the “eduroam” network
 - Free software for download and for cloud-based use (access the Software Downloads app in One.IU)
 - Free 24/7 IU tech support (e.g., email, Canvas, wifi, printing, device setup, etc.)
 - Chat: <https://ithelplive.iu.edu/>
 - Phone: 812-855-6789
 - Email: ithelp@iu.edu
 - Website: <https://uits.iu.edu/get-help/index.html>
 - Online: Knowledge Base
 - Canvas Guides: University Information Technology Services has a page devoted to Canvas, <https://uits.iu.edu/services/canvas/index.html>, where you can find information and resources that can help you navigate this platform (select ‘Canvas Student Guide’).
 - Free in-person tech support in the Wells Library (4th floor or the Services Hub in the Learning Commons)
-